AFTER ALL MASSES IN THE LARGE SOCIAL HALL

Propagation of the Faith Collection

500 years ago, Martin Luther wrote his famous “95 Theses”, asking for reformation within the Church. It was met with resistance on one side and acceptance on the other side. It caused quite a controversy among some of the hierarchy of the Church, so much so that Luther was eventually excommunicated from the Church.

Martin lived a simple and rigorous life as he entered the Augustinian monastery as he studied to become a monk. He was a well-educated man, eventually becoming a biblical scholar and professor. As happened at many times throughout the history of the Church, there was corruption, even in the highest places. The faithful were told they could pay off their sins with monetary donations. This custom was called “indulgences”. (It would be like a priest telling you that your penance in confession was to give him twenty dollars). Martin saw these and other issues that he considered wrong, and drew up a list of 95 questions and propositions for debate. Although he was critical of the Catholic Church, he distanced himself from more radical successors. If we were to read his 95 Theses today, I am willing to bet that we would agree with many of them.

For the past 500 years, the Lutherans and Catholics have been at odds over diverse issues of theology and matters of faith. However, we still remain close. Recently, both sides have put a lot of effort into working together to consider our similarities rather than our differences. I remember last January at the ecumenical prayer service, Pastor Eric reminded all of us present that they are not “Protestants”, that is “Protestors”; rather Luther wanted to reform.

Next Sunday, October 29, the two Catholic churches in Westland, Ss. Simon and Jude and St. Mary, Cause of Our Joy, together with Celebration Lutheran Church (they purchased the former Divine Savior building) will gather together to commemorate the 500 years by looking back at our past, where we are now, and our hopes and dreams for the future. Choirs from all three churches will join voices. Please join us at Celebration Lutheran Church, 39375 Joy Road, at 4:00PM for a prayer Service entitled: From Conflict to Communion, A Lutheran Catholic Commemoration of the Reformation.

IN FORMATION

Ride to Mass Needed

A woman who lives in the condos on Woodview St. needs a ride to Sunday Mass.

If you can help her out please contact the office. Thank you.

Big Sale Come to the large hall today after Mass. You will be surprised at what you find. All the proceeds from this two-day sale will go to the Propagation of the Faith Collection. Thank you in advance.

The Bottom Line Final installment of an old Catechist Magazine article on the value of humor in our lives. "The late Fulton J. Sheen said that the wonderful madness called laughter is found only in humans. Laughter is the beginning of the spirit. Man is the only joker in nature's deck.' For Christians humor is a revelation of the spirit. With it we can bring the Gospel's joyous Good News to this troubled planet."

Sr. Gemma Legel, OSF

Remembering our Loved Ones at St. Hedwig Cemetery

The Knights once again would like to clean the gravesites of anyone who has a loved one buried at St Hedwig Cemetery and who's grave is in need of some TLC. Please fill out a Site Clean Up Request Form available in the Gathering Space or the Parish Office if you would like to have a gravesite cleaned. Forms need to be returned by October 30th for this one-time FALL CLEAN UP.

Also, in keeping with the month of the Rosary, the Knights will be handing out free Rosaries after the 10:00 am Mass and before the Noon Mass on Sunday, October 29. The Rosary will begin at 11:15 and will be finished by 11:45 so that public prayer can be completed in time to allow the faithful to prepare in quiet prayer before the Sacrifice of the Mass.

Congratulations Derik Peterman

We congratulate Derik Peterman, our seminarian, on his installation into the ministry of acolyte on October 6, by Bishop Fisher at Sacred Heart Major Seminary. Please keep Derik and all seminarians in your prayers.

October Yellow Offertory Envelope -- MISSION APPEAL

Today is Mission Sunday. This year we listened to the gospel account of Jesus speaking the parable of the king who invited his guest to the banquet. "Go out, into the main roads and invite to the feast whomever you find." That mandate parallels Jesus' command to his disciples, "Go to the ends of the earth and preach the gospel message to all peoples."

We observe the annual day of prayer and sacrifice for the missions today. We unite ourselves also with our fellow Christians all over the world who with us attempt to share our faith with others, especially those who have not yet heard the name of Jesus. Today offers us the opportunity to join our missionaries in the "holiest and greatest work of the Church."

The Yellow Offertory envelope found in this month's packet of envelopes is earmarked for the Missions. All donations should be received in our Parish Office by Monday, October 30.

Coffee Sunday

Jesus and the Four Gospels are well known to most Christians. In this course we will go beyond this basic understanding and explore the Jewish setting of Jesus' life and ministry, what Jesus said about himself and what his message was (no it is not about love)! We will also discuss why the New Testament came into existence and how the message of Jesus leads to his crucifixion from the perspectives of Jesus, the Jews, and the Romans. We will also discuss what Christian values are and how Christians should live their lives.

Many Thanks for your Donations to Hurricane Relief

I'm pleased to report that $1,003.20 has been collected to date and forwarded to Catholic Charities USA. These funds will be used to assist victims of the recent hurricanes. My marathon was a success. My finish time was 4 hours, 46 minutes, and 52 seconds, good for second place in my age group. This experience reminds me of Mother Teresa's words, "I cannot do what you do. You cannot do what I do. But together we can do something beautiful for God."

Hello my dear friends and family,

It has been quite a while since my last update to you all. There is a lot to catch up on!

I have begun my fifth year of seminary and my third year of the graduate program in theology. After completing this school year, I will have one more to go. My classes this semester are: Sacramental Theology, Sacramental Law, Homiletics (Preaching), Pastoral Counseling, Ecumenism and Interreligious Dialogue (i.e., fostering unity with other Christians and with non-Christians), and Practicum (a class where we practice doing the sacraments and liturgies). The Practicum is a lot of fun because it is more hands on and helps me to look forward to future ministry in a tangible way. Although what we do in that class is not real (We “baptized” baby dolls!), it serves as a sort of dress rehearsal for us. My other classes are great too. There is so much good stuff to learn!

There is so much to learn, in fact, that they keep us busy during the summer. This past summer I was in Lakeport, Michigan at St. Edward on the Lake parish. It is a smaller parish a few miles north of Port Huron. I lived with the priest there and got involved with as much as I could. I was able to do some teaching in the elementary school there, give some talks, make visits to the hospital and senior living homes, and sit in on all kinds of meetings. I met so many wonderful people and learned a lot about ministry. I was able to experience the life of a parish priest in a fuller way than I ever have before. During field day at the school, I ended up in the dunk tank. I’m not sure that is part of the daily life of a priest, but the kids sure enjoyed it!

Then after my time in the internship, I went through an evaluation process. The purpose of that evaluation is to determine my readiness for the next step of seminary. It all went well, and I was approved for the ministry of acolyte. The installation to acolyte was on October 6. An acolyte is essentially a seminarian who assists during the services, but it is also a big step for us. It means that I am that much closer to being ordained a deacon. God-willing, I hope to make my promises and be ordained in about 6 months! In January or February I will go through another evaluation process to prepare for that.

We are nearing the middle of the semester now, so midterms are right around the corner. Then we will host our annual trick-or-treating on Halloween (Holy Eve, or the night before All Souls Day). We let the children from the area trick-or-treat in the seminary because it is not safe for them in the neighborhood. We usually get almost 3000 people to come! Pray for us that the weather is good on that day! The neighborhood is changing, however. It gives me a lot of hope to see the growth in Detroit and the number of families moving back into the area. The Lord is at work in Detroit, but much healing still needs to take place. Living here has really helped me to appreciate the city and it’s people: “He has put into my heart a marvelous love for the faithful ones who dwell in his land” (Psalm 16). Now, the itch to get out into ministry is getting stronger. I think that is a good sign!

When I began seminary, I remember looking at the men in their last year and thinking that it seemed so far away. And that is a good thing because I was not ready at that point. But now, after a few years under my belt, I can say that I am ready. I’d call that a miracle! It’s amazing to think that I am now in the role that those other men had my first year. The new seminarians are now looking up to me! With God’s grace, I am being formed into the man He wants me to become. If I continue to give myself to Him, He will take care of the rest.

Please continue to pray for me. It really does make a difference. God bless!

Derik
