Queen's Quotes from Religious Formation

Greetings and Salutations,

Hope your 2023 resolutions are going well. We are in the season of winter. In winter, the days are short and the hours in the dark are long. Our world is suffering. We are suffering. In today's Gospel reading we hear Jesus goes to the shore of Galilee proclaiming the good news. He calls out to Simon who is called Peter and his brother Andrew, then sees James and John and invites them to follow him. They left everything...their jobs, families, and way of life to be disciples of Jesus. What are fishermen? What do they do? How can we change how we think and live in order to follow Jesus?

Some giggles I wanted to share...May be a few weeks early.... Enjoy!
What did the octopus say to his Valentine?

I want to hold your hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand.
Why are artichokes the most loving vegetable?

Because they've got hearts!

Have a great week for the Lord!

Peace and Prayers,
Sabrina Queen

NOTES FROM PAUL

Often, when I think about prophets in the Old Testament, I think of doom and gloom. In this weeks first reading (Is 8:23—9:3) Isaiah sounds much more optimistic. He is giving the vision of what life will be like under the "new" king, the messiah. I know we can often get caught up in the darkness that is around us, but we should always be on the look out for the light.

In about a month, we will be starting Lent, but never forget that at the end is Easter. Jesus, the new king, is the one who dispelled the darkness with his death and resurrection. Look for the signs of God's plan and victory. Don't give up. If you can't see the light and joy today, know that Easter is coming.

God bless you,
Paul Zbytowski

Drop Your Nets and Be Free

There are times I wish I had no obligations. It would be great to take my wife's hand, hop in the car, and drive into the sunset. Where we were going would not matter as much as the fact that we would have nowhere we had to be. There would be nothing we had to do. No bills. No commitments. No problems. Freedom!

Life doesn't work like that, however. When Jesus came along and asked some fishermen to drop their nets and follow him, they did just that. Wow! In some ways, they experienced true freedom. That is what Jesus offers all of us. Yet, true freedom looks quite different than my dream scenario.

In living in the true freedom that Jesus offers, there are things we must do and places we must go. That is because freedom only exists in following God's will, not our own. We are called to be and called to give ourselves completely to God without reservations. We always have the free will to not respond to His call, but we will find that a negative answer may complicate our lives even further. God's path for us calls on us to give freely of what we have been given. Saying no to that call means we carry the weight of those gifts. We were never meant to keep them. The path of God's will may seem long and winding, but it is the one that leads us into that sunset. It is the way to true freedom.

Barbara Koop, later Mother Marianne Cope, was born in Germany on January 23, 1838, and immigrated with her parents to New York. In August of 1862 she went to the sisters of the Third Order of Saint Francis in Syracuse, New York and took her vows the next year.

Her early religious life saw her working as a teacher and administrator for local Catholic schools until she was called as superior of St. Joseph's Hospital in Syracuse, New York. As the Provincial Mother of her order in Syracuse, Cope, along with six other sisters, she answered a call made by the Hawaiian government to run the Kaka'ako Branch Hospital on Oahu that served as a receiving station for people suspected of having leprosy. Of the more than 50 religious communities in the United States and Canada who were asked by the government to help the suffering communities and hospitals for those with leprosy (Hansen's disease) in Hawaii, Mother Marianne and her sisters were the only ones to answer the call.

In 1888, Mother Marianne and two sisters took on an even more challenging assignment and went to the Hawaiian island of Moloka'i, a leper colony, to open a new home devoted to the protection of girls and women with leprosy as well as to take charge of the home that her friend, Saint Damien de Veuster, had established for men and boys. She served and cheerfully carried out her mission until she died on August 9, 1918.

While in service, she was awarded the Royal Order of Kapiolani by the Hawaiian government for her selfless love and care of those in need and never contracted leprosy. She was canonized in 2012.

Introducing Compass, A New Resource for Parents of Tweens and Teens
www.compassforparents.org

The Office of Family Ministry is pleased to introduce Compass, a new resource for parents. Compass aims to anticipate the needs of Catholic parents, accompany them through the trials and joys of family life, and point them to faithful answers to life's difficult questions. It is an online catalog for parents and caregivers to find articles, books, videos, and other resources to help navigate difficult conversations, life stages, and challenges they face in raising children.

MEMORARE

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help or sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired by this confidence, we fly unto thee O Virgin of virgins, our Mother. To thee do we come. Before thee we stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word
